

New Directions in Policy in Canada

Friday, October 21, 2005

Topics will include:

Obesity in Canada

Dr. Ian Janssen, PhD School of Physical & Health Education, and Department of Community Health & Epidemiology, Queen's University

Dr. Janssen will address current aspects of obesity in Canada - its prevalence, impact on morbidity and mortality and trends.

Policy Scan - Identifying the Policy Possibilities

Dr. Lynn McIntyre, CCFN Trustee and Chair of CCFN Policy Committee, and Professor, Faculty of Health Professions, Dalhousie University

Hear about new findings from work CCFN has commissioned to look at Canadian policies with a goal to identify the gaps and key niches from a policy perspective. An interactive session.

Policies that are Working - New Zealand Food Accord

Cliff Tasman-Jones, Medical & Scientific Director, New Zealand Nutrition Foundation

Last year, the food industry committed "to do all that is possible to encourage all sectors of the food industry to create commercially successful products and services that will make a positive contribution to the health of all New Zealanders". Cliff Tasman-Jones will provide a full account of the status of this initiative.

Policy Action - Eye to 2010 and Beyond

Peter Fonseca, MPP for Mississauga East, Parliamentary Assistant to the Minister of Health Promotion

Learn about action that has been taken at many levels of government to combat the obesity epidemic in Canada and how this will affect the future.

you're invited

Join us for a full-day summit in Toronto this fall, bringing together high profile leaders in industry, government and healthcare

Obesity:

New Directions in Policy in Canada
Hosted by The Canadian Council of Food and Nutrition

CCFN/CCAN

Canadian Council of Food and Nutrition
Conseil canadien des aliments et de la nutrition

Made possible by a donation from The National Institute of Nutrition

Please RSVP by October 10, 2005, by emailing rsvp@gcigroup.com or calling 1-866-830-7414

Please check our website regularly for updates - www.ccfm.ca

7:00 am - 2:00 pm

Registration from 7:00 - 8:30 am

CCFN Invitation Only Session 2:00 - 3:30 pm

CCFN Members Rate $135.00

Non-members Rate $175.00

The Sutton Place Hotel

Queen Victoria Ballroom

955 Bay Street West

Toronto, Ontario

A discounted hotel rate is available for participants requiring overnight accommodation if booking with us before September 16, 2005.